

Brazil: São Paulo Cities Cancel Carnival because of Covid

At least 27 municipalities will not hold the event in 2022

Nov.23.2021 1:27PM

At least 27 cities in the interior of São Paulo will not have a street Carnival in 2022. The fear is that the event, synonymous with large, dense crowds, will increase Covid cases. Among the municipalities that have canceled the event are Mogi das Cruzes, Ubatuba and Taubaté.

The 2022 street carnival in São Paulo depends on the approval of the Health agencies that assess the epidemiological scenario of the pandemic.
